Product Description

Product Description:

The frames of these glasses are made from high-quality titanium, which is known for its durability and strength. The use of titanium also makes these glasses incredibly lightweight, weighing in at only 12g. This means that you can wear them all day without feeling any discomfort or pressure on your nose or ears.

Whether you need glasses for reading, working on the computer, or just for everyday wear, the Beta Titanium Glasses are a great option. They are designed to provide maximum comfort and style, and the use of high-quality materials means that they are built to last. So why not add a touch of retro charm to your look with a pair of these titanium frame glasses?
